Mayor Troutt eyes tax loss settlement

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

Romulus residents may be getting a settlement on property lost in the expansion of the Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt met Monday with James M. Davey, managing director of the Wayne County Road Commission, and Davey's assistants, to discuss repayment for city property lost. Expansion has caused a loss of nearly $260,000 in city,

'I think we won some concessions from the county.'

county and school tax payments, since 1965, Troutt said.

"The meeting went well," Troutt added. "And I think we've won some concessions from the county, though there's nothing official yet."

TROUTT SAID the county representatives "seem receptive" to the idea that Wayne County was the cause of some debt to the city when it absorbed land adjacent to the airport for expansion of facilities.

"They seemed to agree there was some responsibility for loss in debt services for homes condemned by the county, and purchased by it before their obligation for water and sewer taps had been paid," he added. "I'm confident we'll get a fair and just settlement on property we had developed which was later taken in the expansion."

Troutt estimated the settlement would be $200,000.

At the same time, Troutt said that the county will reveal plans "as soon as possible" on the proposed rerouting of Eureka Road to accommodate airport expansion in southern Romulus.

"THEY'VE AGREED to keep us informed of the plans and to cooperate with us as they proceed," the mayor said.

Troutt added that the county may also be replacing water and sewer lines which the county would be condemning with the vacating of the present stretch of Eureka Road.

"They seemed agreeable to the idea of relocating those lines along the new roadway, at no cost to the city," Troutt said. "It's a better plan than had been announced before."

According to Troutt, the county only had offered to install stud lines along Vining and Merriman roads to where the two would intersect with the proposed "loop" of Eureka.

"WE FOUND that unacceptable," Troutt said. "The best way to construct a water and sewer system is to lay it along the roadway. I think the county will agree with us."

Davey said he would not be giving the mayor a definite answer on the city's demands until the county engineers can analyze them.

"But, we think they're pretty reasonable," Troutt said. "I'm confident we'll get some repayment for our losses."

Water and sewer systems in Romulus have been constructed on a bond agreement, in which the city purchases the improvements with borrowed money.

Anxiously waiting

Pre-schoolers in the Romulus Library program recently were awaiting the visit of a special friend, Jennifer Blaszcak, 3 1/2, of 924 Essex (top, right) and her 3-year-old sister Michelle, intently listen to a Christmas story being told by the librarian, while Jean Marie Bray, 4, of 35055 Michele Dr. (left), and Deanne Maciolek, 4 1/2, of 35079 Michele Dr., hardly can wait to meet that special friend. Citizens may see rec improvement

Work has begun on improving Romulus recreation opportunities, as promised during the mayoral election.

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt ran on what he termed "everyone's concern for more recreation in this community." He has ordered his recreation director to begin work on expanding winter recreation opportunities, and adding night-time recreation to the regular routine of the citizens.

Troutt has ordered negotiations with Wayne County for the temporary use of some county land near Merriman and Van Born roads in the city's northern section for use as a snowmobile area.

"THE COUNTY HAS about 280 acres of land bounded by Van Born, Henry Ruff, Beverly and Cogswell roads which lies vacant, and isn't used for much," Troutt said. "The city wants to combine this land with some 40 acres the city owns at Henry Ruff and Beverly roads which could be used for snowmobiling."

"I think this would make a fine area, nearby the city, which the citizens could use for this recreational opportunity."

Troutt said he doesn't snowmobile, but added: "It seems to be catching on, and with all this vacant land in the city, why shouldn't Romulus residents benefit from it?"

At the same time, Troutt has ordered Marie Debuyscher, the recreation director, to begin sampling public opinion on a plan to light the Romulus High School playground.

"IT'S A SHAME that a city the size of Romulus doesn't have night-time recreation," Troutt said. "Right now, (Continued on Page A-3)

Council takes steps to clear city image

The Romulus City Council has taken another step toward trying to live down the city's image as a "dumping ground" for Detroit's murder victims.

It passed two resolutions. One allows the city to tell the news media about steps it is taking to stop future dumpings of bodies. And the other demands that Wayne County join with the city for lighting Beverly and Henry Ruff roads west of Merriman Road - the area where two young children's bodies were dumped after being shot to death two weeks ago.

In the first resolution the council demanded that "the mayor of the City of Romulus be given equal time to present documentation describing what the city is doing to alleviate future dumping of corpses within the city."

ROMULUS COUNCILMAN Lng Coleman, with the support of Councilman James Stewart, proposed the resolution, which was unanimously adopted.

Councilman Mrs. Joan A. Lee, with the support of Coleman, then called upon the county to join with the city to accept a special assessment for lighting the two roads, which border county land.

"The peace and tranquility of the citizen has been directly affected, and the health, safety and welfare indirectly affected by the dropping of human remains within the City of Romulus," Mrs. Lee said.

She added that many of the bodies "have been dropped along Beverly and Henry Ruff roads, sections without paving or lighting bordering on publicly owned land which has been allowed to become overgrown with weeds creating a vast area where atrocities may take place escaping the attention of neighbors or passers-by."

"THE FENCING which encloses this area has, been allowed to deteriorate and allows access to these properties," she added.

She demanded that Romulus "petition Wayne County to abate the nuisance created by the uncontrolled growth of weeds on its property and to make immediate repairs on its fence."

The resolution was forwarded to Wayne County

City finds its image a little hard to handle

The image of Romulus as the "dumping ground" for Detroit's murder victims is "bad for the city," according to Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt.

But there may be little the city can do, he said.

"We have four patrol cars on the road 24-hours a day, and they can't be everywhere at once," Troutt added. "I agree with the council resolution to try to light Beverly Road near Henry Ruff Road, but I'm afraid it only will force dumping in another spot."

"WHEN YOU HAVE open spaces like in Romulus, there's always the chance criminals will congregate in the spaces, and do their dirty deeds."

Troutt said the only possible cure for the "dumping ground" image of the city would be "placing a cop on every block."

"And, that's extremely costly and impractical," he added.

Troutt said one way to discourage criminals from frequenting Romulus would be to have greater citizen involvement.

"IF A CITIZEN sees something suspicious, the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol should be informed," he added. "There's no need to give a name or address, if the citizen is afraid of retribution, but if the sheriff was notified, at least the police could be sent in the area."

"We're beginning to negotiate with the county for the reimbursement of funds spent on city improvement which have been absorbed by Detroit Metropolitan Airport," Troutt said. "And there's no reason we should not attempt to gain some concessions."

Romulus students seek role in school's decision making

By KAY DeBORD
Of The Roman Staff

Some students at Romulus High School want a part in decision making on curriculum and the dispensing of funds to high school departments in the annual budget.

Students presented the decision-making proposal and other demands to the board of education Monday. The board set a Jan. 7 meeting with the students to discuss the demands.

A capacity crowd that included students, parents, school personnel and citizens heard the proposals presented by Romulus High School Student Council representatives headed by its president, Doug Vaught.

A student spokesman said that 60 students had been actively involved in drawing up the proposals, including student representatives, class officers and student advisors.

The student proposals include:

- monthly sessions involving students, faculty, administration and board members;
- a room set aside for a student lounge at the high school;
- board members visits to the school at least once a month — in the capacity of students;

—attendance policies revisions;

Also proposed was that the board eliminate charges for use of school facilities for the part of school-related groups during the week and on weekends.

And that a designated lavatory be converted to a smoking room and smoking outside the school building be allowed.

It also was proposed that students be allowed to leave the building any time of day and that the board should employ a black administrator at the school to achieve a racial balance.

The Roman readers say

Christmas may lack some of its usual twinkle

By SUE HAPP
Of The Roman Staff

Ask anyone and he'll agree that Christmas is a time set aside for the family. It's a time when families near and far gather around to share their love in gifts and songs. It's a time when love radiates in the face of a small child and that of his parents.

But for residents in Romulus, the joy of Christmas will lack some of the twinkle and decorations that have characterized Christmases past.

Residents have geared down their celebrations to cope with the nation's energy crisis, but still maintain much of their spirit of the season.

MISS VICTORIA Hamerick of 10745

'Love shows in the faces of parents and children.'

Hannan Rd. described the yule season as a time when "people get along better and are thinking more of each other."

"Love shows in the faces of parents and children and you can see it when you look at people," the 25-year-old said.

Miss Hamerick added that although the spirit will be prevalent in her family's home, the Christmas tree will make its sparkling debut on only the day itself.

Mrs. John Grieve of 14144 Hannan Rd. described Christmas as a time of reflection on the year gone by and for sharing.

"IT'S A TIME to reflect on the things that have happened to you over the year," the mother of six said. "But it's even nicer to share it with a group of girl scouts and see what it means to them."

She admits that the family will use less lighting this year, but said that the crisis hasn't really affected them. "We've been making fewer shopping trips, and making the ones we do count."

Mrs. Ronald Curtis, a mother of three, said

Christmas is a time for "freeing my spirit and having all my problems behind me."

Mrs. Curtis, who lives at 13552 Hannan Rd., added that "it's a time when people are more friendly."

She said that outdoor decorations will be missing from their Christ as effort 1 year and that the yuletide shopping has been done by way of a neighborhood car pool much because of the cost of gas and not the scarcity."

MRS. MELVIN Blausey admitted that she really hasn't gotten into the Christmas spirit, but enjoys celebrating the occasion with her children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Blausey, the mother of three grown children, said that her home at 39878 Huron River Dr. will have less lighting this year. And she will limit travel to the local area.

According to Mrs. Henry Champagne, the energy crisis may bring families even closer together in the holiday season.

"Everyone was going in their own direction before," the mother of three said. "Now it may keep them closer to home."

Mrs. Champagne, who lives at 12234 Hannan Rd., said that although the Christmas tree is up in their home, it's minus its usual lighting.

Romulus considers fuel plan

No field trips, which call for contracts with outside bus services, the elimination of all spectator buses to athletic events and cutbacks in the transportation of students to various activities are just some of the gas-saving remedies presented to the Romulus Board of Education at last week's regular board meeting. The presentation made by Romulus School Supt. Robert L. McConeghy, followed an administrative notification that there would be a 30 per cent reduction in gasoline for the district.

In addition, McConeghy's report to the board suggested that all intra-school transportation of elementary school students to the high school auditorium for programs and practices be eliminated and that school bus routes be consolidated. McConeghy said that some bus routes could be eliminated, but only in areas where students could safely walk to school.

He also suggested the doubling up some of the existing bus runs.

The consolidation action would call for larger busloads and in some instances, longer rides for students. Doubling up of existing runs would have one bus make two runs.

In that instance, the same bus would take all students home from one elementary school with the students leaving at different times.

Approximately 10,000 gallons of gas was used last year for field trips of Romulus students.

A more detailed proposal for dealing with the gasoline shortage will be presented to the board for consideration by McConeghy at the Jan. 14 meeting.

NEW DEALERSHIP — Harold Claborn (right), president of Claborn AMC-Jeep, Incorporated, breaks ground for his new dealership, to be located at 12100 Telegraph road, Taylor. Assisting are Mario Attuno (left), general contractor, and David L.

Zemke, American Motors Corporation Detroit zone manager. Presently headquartered in Detroit, the Claborn agency will be moving to a 5.9-acre site, which will be highlighted by a 2,600-square-foot showroom.

Two bid requests fail for town hall repairs

A second attempt to procure bid proposals for the Van Buren Township Hall roof repair has failed.

The tar-asphalt roof has started to leak, according to township officials.

Several roofing contractors said the energy crisis has affected the supply of roofing material.

UNDER CONSTRUCTION IS a $129,000 one-story addition to the township hall which will be connected with the present hall by a covered hallway.

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees were told at a recent meeting that a publicized request for bids to install approximately 200 feet of conduit pipe for supplying electricity to Belleville Lake dam failed to bring any bids. The township is scheduled to takeover ownership of the Lake and its 101-acre recreational park next month. Operation of the dam will become the responsibility of the township.

In other bid matters, the township trustees accepted a bid of $351 from the American Waste Industrial Refuse Co. for a used 1966 C-270 Ford packer and a bid for a 1970 ¾ ton pickup truck submitted by township employee David Fain.

FOUR BID PROPOSALS for the installation of a fence to enclose an area where township vehicles are stored were referred to the building department for recommendations.

Youngsters enjoy Christmas party

More than 175 area youngsters were treated to a Christmas they never expected, thanks to the Romulus Jaycees.

The youngsters, all from needy families in the community, were treated to a party, Dec. 14, in the Romulus City Hall Community Room.

Chairman Lee Silvey arranged the party, at which each child received at least two gifts, along with the ice cream, pop, oranges, apples and candy they could consume.

On hand for the party was a magician, who held the audience spell-bound with his skills, and Santa Claus, accompanied by Christmas Carol.

The Jaycees also provided movie entertainment in the form of Laurel and Hardy classics and W.C. Fields films.

The party was financed with money collected by the Jaycees through community-improvement projects during the past year.

Belleville High choir to carol

The Belleville High School choir will be filling the city with the sounds and tunes of the Christmas season in a community-wide caroling program set for tomorrow evening from 6:45 to 9 p.m.

Financier's gift establishes professorship at university

MARQUETTE — Upper Peninsula financier Sam M. Cohodas has given $250,000 to Northern Michigan University (NMU) to establish a professorship in the school of business and management. It is the largest single gift ever received by the university.

NMU President John X. Jamrich said it demonstrated Cohodas' "faith in an institution and in its ability to serve people."

Cohodas, board chairman of First National Bank and Trust of Marquette started a wholesale fruit and vegetable business in the Upper Peninsula in 1916 and now is a major officer in six banks.

"I sense that good banking practices will be a key to the economic future of the Upper Peninsula," he said. "Banking is only people and money working together."

"Of the two, capable people are harder to find than money. I personally feel an obligation to all of the people of the Upper Peninsula for the success and happiness that I have enjoyed, and by giving a gift like this to Northern, the whole Upper Peninsula will eventually be the recipient of the gift."

Cohodas, known as "the Upper Peninsula's No. 1 Citizen," also is a member of the university's development fund's board of trustees and has been active in the promotion of many of the peninsula's institutions.

He is a member of the board of directors of Panax Corporation.

Despite trip to Washington, officials unclear about zoning

By DALE GOWING
Of The Enterprise Staff
Huron Township officials are little clearer on the status of zoning in a segment of the township near Detroit Metropolitan Airport despite a day of meetings with U.S.

Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) heads and representatives of the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) in Washington, D.C.

Journeying to the nation's capitol to try and find out "where we stand" on the subject of expansion and zoning in a northern portion of the township, Huron Township Supervisor George W. Moore charged the HUD officials with confronting him and several other township officials in a "disorganized manner."

"They were so mixed up and confused and couldn't tell us anything," he added. WHAT THE HURON representatives did find out from the FAA officials that the township may not request federal funds for making a zoning projection around the airport area bordering the airport.

"They told us we can't request the aid, that no agency can request it for that purpose," Moore said.

"We still have the flexibility to build on that land how we want, but the value of the property won't go up," he added. "We wanted to zone it to protect individuals from the assessing of land zoned as industrial or commercial."

"But if it can not be federally financed, why have it zoned as such?" he asked. MOORE, ALONG with the township planner, attorney and engineer, also found that no more expansion is in the making for the near future at Metro, other than the present runway expansion. The new runways extend to Eureka Road in Romulus, one-half mile from the Huron Township border line.

Accompanying the Huron officials on the day-long trip to Washington last Wednesday were Sumpter and Van Buren township officials.

Romulus High School teams have to play night games in Willis, this city has no nighttime facilities."

Romulus School Supt. Robert L. McConeghy said the schools had no definite requests for lighting the fields for recreational activities.

He also said Romulus High School football games are held during daylight hours.

He pointed out that there would be considerable expenditure involved in lighting and that in light of the energy crisis use should be limited.

"THERE'S NO REASON that an area with a school district taxbase such as ours can't afford to have the schools light the playfields at night," the mayor said.

He added that he has proposed the Romulus Board of Education light the field, in exchange for the city undertaking supervision of nighttime events.

"It's a share and share alike project, with both the city and school board agreeing to pick up the cost," he added. "I really think the school district should see to lighting the field."

McConeghy said the board of education has not been contacted by the city on field lighting.

"WE ALSO OUGHT to see if these community improvement clubs — such as the Kiwanis, the Jaycees and the Rotary — want to get involved in a program to get the field lighted," he said.

Mrs. Debuyscher is busy sending letters to all the civic clubs, asking each to send two representatives to a meeting she will arrange to discuss the lighting of the field.

Though he is in favor of the school district picking up the tab, the mayor said: "These groups should have an interest in this project and may want to get together to discuss it."

"Various civic clubs and citizen groups have gotten discuss the lighting of the field, but nothing has been done."

"Maybe, with the city unofficially pushing for it, we may accomplish more."

End to controversy eyed
The controversy between the Van Buren Public School District and the township regarding the annexation of 42 acres of school-owned land to the City of Belleville soon may be resolved.
The annexation dispute is pending in Wayne County Circuit Court, which issued an injunction at the request of the township, halting the annexation of three school sites, located in the township, to the city.

High school drug problem
Because of drug and cruising car problems at Belleville High School, the Van Buren Board of Education has approved the hiring of a full-time parking lot attendant.

Residents quiz officials
In light of the proposed expansion of Willow Run Airport, township residents have been quizzing Van Buren officials for an explanation on the new township hall addition and funding of construction.
In the proposed expansion of the airport, the township hall would be eliminated along with homes, businesses and schools.
The township supervisors said officials have discounted the airport expansion plans as unrealistic. He said funding for the addition came from a portion of the township's share of federal revenue-sharing funds.

Christmas holiday looses 'twinkle'

MRS. JAMES Morris decried the commercialization of the Christmas season, saying that few people realize the meaning of the celebration—the birth of Christ.

Mrs. Morris, the mother of one child, said that "all the kids think of is what they're going to get. They really don't know what it means."

Mrs. Morris said the family's home at 39825 Huron River Dr. will be without indoor and outdoor lighting decorations this year.

A hope for continued peace is what Mrs. Anthony Hoffman of 15970 Inkster Rd. sees in the holiday season.

"It's a time for looking forward to better times," she said.

MRS. RAYMOND Messer of 39940 Huron River Dr., the mother of three, also said the season was for the family, but objected to the idea of Christmas without lights.

"I don't like the idea of no Christmas lights," she said.

"You can't ride through the cities and see the decorations."

She admitted she hasn't put up any lights as yet, and that those that do appear in the Messer home probably will be on the tree.

Roman publishes Thursday

In keeping with the spirit of Christmas, next week's edition of The Romulus Roman will be published one day late to allow its employees and cadre of newsmen to enjoy Christmas Day with their families.

Because of the one-day publishing delay, most subscribers of The Roman will receive next week's edition on Thursday, Dec. 27 — and it will be packed with New Year's specials and a round-up of 1973 news highlights.

Residents paying their taxes early

By all indications, Romulus residents are hurrying to make tax payments.

Nearly 13 per cent of the $5.1 million in tax levies mailed by the city Dec. 7 for Wayne County and the Romulus School District already has been collected by the city treasurer, John Lewkowicz.

"The response has been overwhelming," Lewkowicz said. "It's highly unusual to collect this much tax this early, especially when you consider the people have until Feb. 28 to make payments."

"We were lucky to get tax bills out early because the county especially was early in getting their bills to us," Lewkowicz said.

In the past, cities in the area were unable to mail out bills for county taxes on time because the county was slow in printing up their billing statements.

Lewkowicz also gave credit for the city's early mailing to his office help.

'Tis the season of peace and good will. To friends, neighbors, sincere thanks.

A propeller with U.S. markings

Then there was silence...for 28 years

By MITCH KEHETIAN
Enterprise-Roman Editor

Sgt. William J. Cannady now rests in peace in Arlington National Cemetery, yet with each day - a new twist unravels in his mysterious disappearance 28 years ago.

It was just before 9:30 a.m. Aug. 7, 1945 when a B-24 Liberator left Luhsien, China for the return flight to its base in Rupsi, Assam, India.

Sgt. Cannady, then 24, and from neighboring Wayne, was the craft's flight engineer. Normally the aircraft carried a crew of 10, but the war with Japan was seven days short of being over...so the plane flew with five crewmen.

AS FLIGHT ENGINEER for the four-engine World War II plane, Cannady had to go along on what was believed to be the last flight over the treacherous "Hump," a term airmen gave to the vital India-China air link across the Himalayas.

Cannady, raised by foster parents during his teen years and married at the outbreak of World War II, was the oldest crew member and the only married airman on that fatal flight.

According to military logistics, the plane was flying at an altitude of 17,000 feet, about 450 miles northeast of its India base destination.

AT TWO MINUTES past noon on Aug. 7, 1945, the plane's pilot, Richard Franken, 21, of Wisconsin, gave a routine radio position contact while crossing the Burma border.

Then there was silence...for 28 years. Following the end of the war with Japan, search and recovery teams combed the plane's route pattern in hopes of finding the missing airmen.

And despite their efforts, it seemed that Aircraft B-24, Serial Number 44-41293, and its crew had "vanished" into the fabled Himalayas Mountains.

A YEAR AFTER the craft's mysterious disappearance, Cannady and his fellow crewmen were listed as missing and presumed dead.

With that news, the young airman's wife, Hazel, and two infant sons, Larry and William R., found themselves victims of war...and clinging to hope.

For Hazel Cannady and her two fatherless sons, the war did not end with Japan's unconditional surrender. And for the next 28 years, Cannady's wife, since remarried, and his two now grown sons, always wondered what fate befell their husband and father.

About four months ago, a tribe of mountain villagers in the remote Keilam Range in India told Indian authorities about a wrecked airplane - with the U.S. markings number 441293 on one side of a propeller.

SEVERAL WEEKS LATER a U.S. representative in New Delhi, India's capital, reported back that Indian authorities had turned over fragmentary skeletal portions of remains - including "dog tags" for five American airmen.

One of the tags bore the name and serial number: Cannady, William J., 36978303.

A short time later the next-of-kin of four of the airmen had been located, except for Cannady's wife and sons.

Through a series of stories in this newspaper and other newspapers across the state, the Army ROTC Detachment at the University of Detroit received a call. "I think Sgt. Cannady's wife now lives near Grand Rapids. She has since remarried..."

WHEN MRS. HAZEL HAVILAND, now 51, heard that her late husband's remains had been found, she told Army authorities: "I always had a feeling that one day Bill would be at the front door..."

But that day never came. Instead, she went to a military funeral on Dec. 7, a day also marking the 32nd observance of the Japanese Attack on Pearl Harbor.

And when the horse drawn Cassion bearing the remains of five World War II airmen, including Sgt. Cannady's, headed into Arlington Cemetery for services at the old Fort Myer Post Chapel - Mrs. Hazel Haviland wept.

SHE WEPT FOR GOOD memories of another life, and she wept for her husband of 28 years ago who was finally laid to rest - with the crew of that ill-fated flight over "The Hump."

Mrs. Haviland is back home, and only time will heal the open sore of the past 28 years...but she knows that the young man buried in Arlington National Cemetery is now at rest.

There is only a single grave, because of the "extreme paucity of remains recovered"...and it bears five names.

And the Army's "summary of events" on the finding of the downed aircraft states: "The circumstances surrounding its disappearance are unknown..."

Whatever brought the ill-fated B-24 down over the mysterious Himalayas, will remain a mystery.

As we see it

State department commits an injustice to America's friends

If the reports prove to be accurate that our embassy in Warsaw is discriminating against Polish citizens who want to visit relatives in this country—then the persons who are responsible for the action must be removed from office.

Each day we read of similar accounts in the Soviet Union...and an irate American Congress which threatens to cut economic aid to the Russians until the Soviets ease their exit visa restrictions applied to Jews who wish to migrate to Israel.

Congressman John Dingell of the neighboring 16th District, incensed by the visa report, has asked for a full congressional investigation—and we support the representative's demand.

According to information obtained by Tom Ochiltree, our correspondent in Washington, the U.S. State Department is placing the blame on the Communist government in Warsaw.

Yet, officials within the sprawling department, admit that by granting visas to Poles who wish to visit America—some of the temporary visitors actually take up employment in the large Polish centers in America...Detroit area included.

Even if this were true, there are visiting immigration laws to cope with the problem—if it truly exists. But to deny visas to Poles who wish to visit this land of ours, on the weak defense they will take-up employment, is a shame against all America.

When President Nixon visited Poland on his return from Moscow—all of Warsaw filled out on the streets—not to protest—but to cheer the "president from America."

Will they cheer us now?

Dingell rips visa discrimination

Claims U.S. denies 'visit visas' to Poles

By TOM OCHILTREE

Enterprise-Roman Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Immigration officials have denied categorically that the State Department is discriminating against Poles seeking visas to visit relatives in the United States.

Such charges have been voiced by spokesman for the large Polish-American communities in the Detroit and Chicago metropolitan areas.

Several congressmen, including Rep. John D. Dingell, 16th District Democrat, have taken the matter up directly with the department. Dingell said he would ask for a congressional investigation.

FOR ITS PART, the State Department agreed that Poles seeking to get to America often run into stumbling blocks but added that these have been put there by Poland's Communist government.

American diplomats privately expressed disappointment that current signs of east-west detente have not had any impact yet so far as the movement of Poles is concerned.

Rep. Edward J. Derwinski, R-Ill., and Dingell are among a group of congressmen who have been pressing the State Department to push hard for a solution of the matter. Both are of Polish descent.

An aide said Derwinski believes a solution must involve a change of attitude by the Polish government. Like other Communist countries in Eastern Europe, Poland places tight controls and limitations on the travel documents it issues its own people.

IN A LETTER to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, Dingell made it plain he was not satisfied with the department's attitude.

He charged that the department, either through ignorance or as a matter of policy was "blatantly discriminating against Poles" by cracking down on the number of visitor visas granted Poles.

He pointed out that "in fiscal year 1969 only 865 visas were refused by the U.S. Embassy in

Be watchful of Yuletide con artists

Shop at local established business places

By HENRY CANTIN
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

With the Christmas season already upon us, thoughts of sugar plums and other good things intoxicate the mind and possibly make us less alert to the fact that all is not "good will toward men."

True, this is time for kind deeds and happy thoughts, but there is a certain fraternity that uses the mantle of Christmas as a coverup for its shady activities.

THIS FRATERNITY IS composed of shysters—the con artists who habitually creep out of the woodwork at every Yuletide to infiltrate the ranks of harried shoppers during this period of hectic buying.

Their modus operandi in most cases is to tease unwary buyers with bargains that seem too good to be true—and usually are.

The reason their diabolical schemes so often succeed is not because of any profound intelligence of unusual expertise on their part, although admittedly, some are real whizbangs in action.

NO, THEY SUCCEED because they recruit two helpers—gullibility and greed. Without these aides, and without the naivete that afflicts so much of mankind, they would have to pack up their schemes and crawl back whence they came. They also have a third assistant—a volunteer—in the form of carelessness.

Area Chamber units offer sound shopping advice

Gullibility and greed—not pretty words, are they? But, let's be honest. At Christmastime, the opportunity to save a dollar here and a few dollars there sounds awfully attractive to any financially-pressed bargain hunter.

According to officials of the Romulus and Belleville Chambers of Commerce...and the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Detroit, unless you're careful, you may end up paying for unordered merchandise, often sent in the name of an unknown charity, or as an outright commercial venture.

IF YOU ARE NOT WARY, you may be stung with "bargain" offers for perfume, cologne or toilet water, falsely sold under established brand names, or which are claimed to be famous brands under different labels.

And don't be too anxious to reach for your wallet or purse to accommodate that street-corner hawk. Usually, all he has to unload are cheap watches, ties, perfume, toys, gadgets and other shoddy merchandise.

Also watch out for attempts to collect for cash-on-delivery packages for a neighbor who, the deliverer says, is not home.

And finally, be doubly alert for phony pricing, the chambers warn.

BEFORE BUYING, INVESTIGATE whether the item can be exchanged. If a guarantee is offered, get it in writing.

When solicited by a charity, check its reputation first. Still better, shop at locally established businesses and you'll have a Merry Christmas.

Levin eyes 'middle road' to Lansing

By DON HOENSHELL, Panax Editorial Director

LANSING — Democratic noncandidate Sander M. Levin said he knocked on a door in St. Clair Shores in the dusk of an autumn evening and found Mr. Middle America.

He lived in the same place as he did when he voted for President Nixon in 1972 and Gov. William G. Milliken in 1970.

Now his concerns are the economy, the energy crisis and future shock but his big worry is whether political leaders might have found solutions before disaster threatened.

LEVIN CAME AWAY CONVINCED that if he is to be Michigan's new governor that he must win Mr. Middle America, offer a tougher and quicker kind of leadership and stay away from the power brokers.

Levin's find came on a block-by-block tour of selected suburban precincts, a technique first used extensively in 1947-48 by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams before he started his 12-year dynasty.

He's spending about half of his time now knocking on doors and talking with people — enjoying the ego-building recognition based on his 1970 run against Milliken, which he lost by 44,000 votes.

And Levin feels he is getting a view of the issues that is fresher than the statistics of polls. People express their concerns differently from the rhetoric of political people.

"ONE WOMAN IN Belleville was furious at Nixon," he said. "She told me she dialed down her thermostat to 68 degrees and her parakeet got diarrhea," he said.

Levin will announce in February or March, about the same time as the only other noncandidates presently visible, former Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh and State Rep. Bobby D. Crim, D-Davison.

At this point, Crim — almost politically invisible from a statewide standpoint — is getting surprising support and Cavanagh is stumping the state as though the election were next week. Each has reasons, stated and re-stated, why he will be the winner.

Levin said he is getting his political money in small chunks from a broad range of supporters, not big labor, big business or big anything.

LABOR - LONG THE MAIN pillar of the Democratic party in Michigan — is not expected to endorse in the primary. Union leaders in 1972 said they would back candidates because of their labor positions, not just because they are Democrats.

Levin's advantage in 1974, if he wins the primary, will be his reluctant nonincumbency. Milliken's in and Levin's out and the crises of the day have to be met by those in office.

Mr. Middle America in St. Clair Shores still likes Milliken and Levin would be wasting his own energy if he tried to picture Milliken as a bad guy.

But Levin thinks there is still mileage in the challenge to Milliken's leadership. He says Milliken's attack on the energy crisis was too little and too late, that he was little clout even in the Republican caucuses of the legislature.

IT IS TRUE THAT MILLIKEN doesn't like to knock heads together to get what he wants. When he does it's a nice-guy-gets-tough story that chases man-bites-dog from Page 1 into the sports section.

Another Levin advantage is his front seat in the state Democratic organization. He was state chairman, a state senator, and once Oakland county Democratic chairman and many of his friends are still at the top.

He's convinced there will be a primary in 1974, at least with Cavanagh. Crim, he believes, is starting from too far back.

So now Levin is running his non-campaign on the front porches and living rooms of selected precincts, just like Williams did in 1947-48. And he says outcounty Wayne, Oakland and Macomb are the Middle America fields he must plow.

Levin is trying to find both — from the people.

'The Number' elects new board members

The Board of Trustees of "The Number," Belleville's crisis-counseling center, recently elected eight new members.

The new trustees are Myrtle Gasilo, Hal Forde, Cindy Harris, Thomas Gibbings, Linda Mason, Fanie Butler, Ted Hooten and Cathy Horste. The other trustees are David Lee, Charlene Harris, Richard McClure, Judy Fruit, Gilbert Thom, Jeff Gilliam and Joe Reed Jr.

THE VOTING membership of "The Number" also approved a proposed set of by-laws, which includes an article which limits the term of office of members of the board of trustees to one year.

Officers of the board of trustees were elected at Monday's meeting.

The Number is a non-profit corporation, operating a "hot-line" crisis counseling service. A phone staff of 40 trained volunteers deals with a variety of problems.

All staff members underwent a 21-hour training session under the direction of F. Robert Harkai, director of "The Number."

IN EXISTENCE since Aug. 1, "The Number," which also operates a drug analysis service, serves the cities of Belleville and Romulus and Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron townships.

Board approves reorganization

A resolution, authorizing the reorganization of the Van Buren Education Association (VBEA) as the representative agency for part-time driver education instructors employed by the school district, has been approved by the Van Buren Board of Education.

The association had filed an election petition with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission for the right to represent the driver education teachers.

A vote on the issue has been ordered by an administrative law judge, Bert Wicking, two weeks ago. However, the board's action eliminates the need for the election.

According to William Houston, president of the association, the driver education teachers have not received a wage increase since 1968.

In April, the VBEA's negotiating team proposed wage adjustments for the driver education teachers, but the board refused to recognize the right of the VBEA to negotiate for those teachers.

Previously, wages for driver education instructors was set by the school board.

Houston said after the board's ruling that the VBEA will present wage and fringe benefits proposals for the driver education instructors to the board in the near future.

Any person needing assistance may dial 699-2039. "The Number" is open from 4 p.m. to midnight Monday through Thursday from 4 p.m. to 4 a.m. Friday and Saturday, and from 4 p.m. to 2 a.m. on Sunday.

U.S. Supreme Court to rule on Howard Johnson dispute

The U.S. Supreme Court has agreed to rule on a year-long contract dispute between owners of Belleville's Howard Johnson Motor Lodge and members of Local 705 of the Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union.

The court agreed to rule on the company's appeal of a decision by the U.S. Court of Appeals (6th Circuit) in Cincinnati, which held that Howard Johnson under federal law qualifies as a "successor employer" and must submit to arbitration.

The question raised is whether the collective bargaining contract agreed to by the former owner and his employees should remain in effect.

The company purchased the lodge from two of its own subsidiaries, Howard Johnson Motor Lodge, Inc., and Belleville Restaurant Co. Inc., in 1972.

THE HOWARD Johnson Motor Lodge is located near the Belleville Road and the I-94 Expressway interchange, in Van Buren Township.

Following the purchase, the parent company said that it was not bound by the union contract. The union, which represents the 58 workers, filed suit against the company after it failed to honor the contract terms.

The suit, filed in Wayne County Circuit Court, charged Howard Johnson failed to honor the collective bargaining contract between P.L. Grissom of Detroit.

Belleville Church joins in joint rites

The Trinity Episcopal Church of Belleville recently joined with six other Downriver churches in a joint celebration of Holy Confirmation.

The Rt. Rev. Archie Crowley, retired Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan, officiated the ceremony.

Six members of the Trinity Episcopal's junior high school class were confirmed during the ceremony. They were Susan Story, Gwendolyn Bryan, Jeffery Clark, Jefferson Gilliam, Colleen Rudat and Robert Rudat.

Members of the adult class participating in the celebration were Mary Gilliam and Richard Foldi.

Also received into the communion were two Trinity Episcopal Church members, F. Robert Harkai and Richard Foldi Sr.

The U.S. Supreme Court had ruled in an earlier case that when a firm is sold the new owner does not have to honor the contract of the former owner unless a majority of the employees are hired back.

During the contract dispute, union employees at one time staged a sit-in.

Luncheon follows infant's christening

IN AN ELEVEN o'clock ceremony at St. Anthony's Catholic Church November 25, Ann Marie Gutierrez received the sacrament of holy baptism. The Rev. Mr. Michael Wasilewski presided at the rite with the baby's aunt, Evelyn Giblin of Belleville, and Mike Simms of Allen Park as Godparents.

Ann Marie, daughter of Gene and Elaine Gutierrez of Bemis Road, was dressed in a traditional long christening gown made by her aunt, Gloria Laiklam of Dearborn, especially for the occasion.

Following the ceremony, the infant's parents entertained the sponsors and relatives at a luncheon in their home.

First birthday marked with party

A SINGLE CANDLE centered the cake which marked the first birthday of little Jamey Lynn McCloskey who chalked up 'Number One' December 8. The copper-haired pixie shared her party with a neighbor, Marie Hall, who was 27 the same day.

Jim and Patty McCloskey of Fenster Street entertained relatives, friends and neighbors in honor of their first daughter. Guests included the Cecil Schimmel family, the Bob Hartsoes, Sandra Ballard and daughter, Terri, Sandra Wilson, the Art Gorneys and son, Freddie, Scotty McCoy, Deon Summersville, the Jim Kalaszs and daughter, Reva, and Bonnie Wojciechowski and daughter, Lisa. And, of course, Jamey's month-old sister, Shannon Marie, was also included.

Robert Eric is his name

The birth of their new baby brother is being announced by Lisa Marie and Lora Ann Bouchillon. The new addition and future playmate arrived at Beyer Memorial Hospital, Ypsilanti, December 7 and weighed in at 7 lbs - 12 oz.

Titled Robert Eric, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Bouchillon of 43981 Burtrig Road, Belleville.

Lisa, 4½, Lora, 3, and the baby are the grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Gray and Mrs. William Bouchillon, all of Belleville.

As her birthday present, Marie Hall, her husband Tony, and eight-year old daughter Sanya, will be spending the holidays in her native Germany.

MR. AND MRS. LANCE L. AMMON

Sandra Tontalo now Mrs. Lance L. Ammon

Candlelight set the mood for the October 20 wedding of Sandra L. Tontalo and Lance L. Ammon, both of Belleville. Urns of white gladiolas, mums and carnations accented with pink streamers, adorned the altar for the double ring rite at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

The Rev. Raymond S. Skonec and the Rev. Mr. Michael Wasilewski presided at the ceremony which united the daughter of Belleville Councilman and Mrs. Robert D. Tontalo of 37 Madelon Street, Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Ammon of Minton Street, Livonia.

Organ music was played by Lester King with the bride's mother-in-law Dale Burger as soloist.

SOME 250 GUESTS saw the bride escorted to the sanctuary by her father. Carrying a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations, red rose buds, baby's breath and tendrils of ivy, the bride appeared in a creation of white satin and rosepointe lace. The empire bodice of lace was designed with a high ruffled neckline and long satin sleeves ruffled at the wrist. Her skirt terminated in a deep flounce of lace and swirled into a chapel train.

The bridal tradition of 'something borrowed' was carried out in the illusion veil belonging to the bride's sister, Mrs. Dale Burger. A cluster of rhinestones and seed pearls formed the headpiece which secured the veil. 'Something old' was the 'lucky' sixpence in her shoe, a gift from the bride's aunt, Gwen Henderson of Dearborn; 'something blue' was the garter made by the bridegroom's mother; and 'new' was the lace handbag from the bride's aunt, Mrs. Helen Tontalo of Wayne.

Preceding the bride up the aisle were six attendants in Juliet-style frocks fashioned with burgundy velvet bodices and pink chiffon skirts. Pink lace defined the scoop necklines and the tapered sleeves.

Pink and burgundy carnations and baby's breath comprised the colonial bouquets held by the group with each wearing a pink shawl made by the bridegroom's mother and Mrs. Donald Burger as a wrap to and from church.

BARBARA VEERKAMP of Belleville was maid of honor for her best friend with Mrs. Dale Burger of Belleville; Sharon Tontalo, the bride's twin; Rebecca Tontalo, another sister; and Martelle and Martelle Ammon, the bridegroom's sisters, completing the bridal coterie.

The bridegroom asked David Rayburn of Belleville to serve as best man. Ushers were Dennis Ferris of Dearborn Heights and Dale Burger and Andy Dearing, both of Belleville.

Following the ceremony, guests traveled to Roma Hall in Livonia for the dinner-dance reception honoring the young couple. Mrs. Tontalo received in a princess-line gown of turquoise brocade while the bridegroom's mother chose to wear a turquoise chiffon formal. Both mothers were honored with corsages of white orchids and had also been presented with red roses at the close of the wedding ceremony.

For traveling to the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania for a week-long honeymoon, the new Mrs. Ammon changed to a blue velvet suit. The newlyweds are now at home at 400 Liberty Street, Belleville.

A graduate of Belleville High School, Sandi is employed as a receptionist for Dr. D. Hild in Belleville. Lance is employed with Van Buren Public Schools.

The bridegroom's parents played host at a buffet supper following wedding rehearsal. Attending along with the bridal party were the bridegroom's grandparents, the Norman Mayhews from Pennsylvania, and the Joe Grossers, the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister.

Fondue's the menu for Home Arts party

Carrying on a tradition which had its beginnings some 27 years ago when the Home Arts Club was formed, the current membership met Monday, December 10, for its annual Christmas party.

President Elaine Gutierrez invited the group to her home on Bemis Road for the festivities. With her fellow-officers, Sharon Matthews, Sally Jones, Beverly Eichold and Elaine Habel, she planned a fondue menu for the evening. And fondue it was as the group of 21 selected from a variety of cheese and pizza fondues and then followed up with the dessert pots containing chocolate, vanilla and strawberry recipes in which to dunk assorted fresh fruits, marshmallows and fudge cake chunks.

Refreshments followed the social program arranged by Kathy Miller and her committee: Sharon Richendollar and Florence McKelvey. Two pencil games were played with prizes being won by Muriel Wolfe and Avis White. The door award, the holiday centerpiece, was determined by whomever was wearing the Christmas candle and that went to Mildred Baker. The candle and other seasonal items (balls, wreaths, poinsettias, etc.) were fashioned of colorful felt and selected by each member as a lapel ornament as she entered.

Santa (alias Ernil Jones) also put in an appearance and distributed the assorted homemade goodies which the group had been asked to bring in lieu of the usual gift. The variety of items included homemade noodles, wine, nut breads, cookies, fudge, relishes, and pie for the group to share with their families during the holidays.

Study Club party held at Turney's

Mrs. Leo Turney played hostess December 12 at the Belleville Women's Study Club's annual Christmas party. Her Elwell Road home was festively decorated for the occasion.

Mrs. Lynne Hamilton, chairman of the arts committee, and Mrs. Royce Smith, music committee chairman, planned the evening program which featured the eight members of the Belleville

High School Chorale. Christmas carols and other numbers were sung under the direction of Mrs. Mary Louise Pitcher. The group enjoyed punch with club members before leaving for their regular choir rehearsal.

A business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Thurston Jahr, was followed by a social evening over coffee, tea, punch and dessert.

Bassinet bulletins

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Rochowiak of 14520 Elwell Road, Belleville, have a new daughter whom they've named Dawn Carol. The fourth addition to their family, she arrived December 1 at Beyer Hospital and weighed 7 lbs. - 6 oz.

It was a boy December 3 for Mr. and Mrs. William W. Beard of 9650 Hamilton, Belleville. The newcomer, who weighed in at 8 lbs. - 6 oz., arrived at Beyer Hospital and was titled Alex Thomas.

Baptist Church scene of Fulton-Arndt vows

Two Belleville High School graduates, Debra Arndt of 375 Liberty Street, Belleville, and Gary Fulton of 18465 Martinsville Road, Belleville, exchanged wedding bands and nuptial vows at the Grace Baptist Church of Belleville.

The November 24 ceremony was read by the Rev. Bill Gram before some 150 assembled relatives and friends. For the five o'clock rite the altar was appointed with bouquets of white mums.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arndt of 507 Richardi, Bellaire, the bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding day, she chose to wear a white taffeta gown with a sheer overdress. Vertical rows of lace from the turtleneck collar to the hemline were used to accent the long-sleeved dress.

MR. AND MRS. GARY FULTON

A Juliet crown secured the bride's long lace-banded veil train which cascaded over the four-foot train of the gown. Completing her bridal finery was a bouquet of yellow and white roses, baby's breath and stephanotis with trailing green ivy.

A CLOSE FRIEND, Deborah Eggers of Belleville, was chosen to be honor attendant. Her gown, patterned along empire lines, was styled with a white bodice and royal blue skirt. Trimmed with white ribbon and blue lace, the dress was made with a turtleneck and sheer long sleeves. Her blue beaded fitted headpiece secured her shoulderlength veil.

The trio of bridesmaids in identical gowns of solid blue were the bride's sister and sisters-in-law, respectively, Diane Arndt from Bellaire; Mrs. Jan Arndt of Belleville and Mrs. Susan Arndt of Wayne.

Leslie Ann Stafford, daughter of the Fred Staffords of Wayne, carried out the role of flowergirl. Her dress was a miniature of the bridesmaids' and she carried white and yellow roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

THE BRIDEGROOM, son of Mr. Betty Fulton of 18465 Martinsville Road, Belleville, and the late Elmer Fulton, asked Ron Stalmach of Belleville to be best man. Others on the esquire side were Dick McGuire of Belleville; Harold Martin of Wayne and George Alger of Belleville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Arndt donned a yellow and orange floral print polyester formal. The bridegroom's mother chose a full-length gown of blue polyester trimmed in gold. Both were presented with corsages of cymbidium orchids, stephanotis and baby's breath.

The P.N.A. Lodge in Belleville was reserved for the reception which followed. The newlyweds are now making their home at 375 Liberty Street, Apt. 7, Belleville.

Debbie graduated from Belleville High in 1973 and is now employed at Mel's Cleaners, Belleville. Her husband, a 1967 alumnus, attended Washenaw Community College for two years and is currently employed at Belle Mobile Homes, Belleville.

The bridegroom's mother entertained at a buffet supper in her home on Martinsville Road following the wedding rehearsal.

City joins lobby group

Looking for an effective lobbyist for cities, Romulus officials have taken out membership in the Michigan Municipal League (MML).

"Whether you know it or not, it was through lobbying efforts such as the Michigan Municipal League that the cities of the United States got revenue sharing," said Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt. "That alone makes the $2,003 per year we'll pay in dues worth the trouble."

Romulus receives more than $200,000 yearly in revenue sharing, thanks in part to the MML, according to Troutt.

He recommended that the city join the organization.

The Romulus City Council approved it and requested a report within a year to detail the benefits of memberships.

State names hall as historical site

It's over 100 years old

The old Van Buren Township Hall located in downtown Belleville has been placed on the Michigan State Register of Historic Sites list.

The former headquarters for the township's administrative offices, situated at 405 Main St. was once a grange hall. The structure is more than 100 years old, according to reports.

Offices in the hall are being used by the OxBow Realty Co., The Belleville Enterprise, and for military recruitment.

The township offices were moved to the Tyler Road location several years ago and are being expanded to meet the need for more office space.

The township trustees recently received a communication from a historic sites specialist saying the old township hall has been placed on the state's historic sites registry. The state advisory council also approved sending the nomination of the township hall to the National Register in Washington.

CHOIR PERFORMS — In error last week, the choir of the first Baptist Church of Romulus was pictured as the Bethany Baptist Church's musical group. The Bethany choir, pictured above, presented two performances of John Peterson's

"Night of Miracles" last week for the city's senior citizens at the Edgemont School and at the church. The group is under the direction of Doyle Wise.

U-M degree candidates include 18 Belleville-Romulus students

An estimated 2,500 students on the University of Michigan's Ann Arbor campus received degrees during commencement exercises held Sunday.

Nine residents from the Belleville-Romulus area were among those taking part in the ceremonies which include an address by Dr. Clark Kerr, chairman of the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education.

Romulus degree candidates were: Ernest Bazzana of 36651 Grant, with a bachelor of arts degree; Mark English of 6054 Wayne, with a master of arts degree in architecture; Sue Ann Hendrickson, of 35275 Michelle, with a bachelor of arts in English.

Also receiving degrees were: Diana Van Loon of 9995 Diane, with a masters degree in education; Thomas Van Loon of 9995 Diane, with a bachelor of arts degree in Economics; Ronald Wheeler of 29460 Prescott, with a master of arts in history; and Jennifer Jones of 33804 Avalon, with a bachelor of science in nursing.

Two Belleville residents also participated in the ceremonies. They are Richard Ries of 14008 Lenmore, with a bachelor of fine arts degree and Patricia Ryback of 45236 Sunrise, with a mater of arts degree in library science.

City officials meet with school board

As part of a new "open communications" set up by Romulus city officials, the Romulus City Council has set up a Jan. 21 meeting with the Romulus Board of Education. The meeting will be designed to open lines of discussion between the two legislative bodies, in an effort to avoid duplication of services between the city and the school district.

Of major importance in the discussions may be talk of joint city-school district recreational activities proposed by several candidates during the city election.

The meeting is another aspect of an improved communication policy set up by city officials.

Student earns award

A Belleville resident, Douglas L. Eye, has been awarded the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps' distinguished cadet badge for his demonstration of unusual abilities in leadership, initiative and total performance.

Cadet Eye, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stelman Eye, of 48705 Bemis Rd., Belleville, is a senior at Michigan State University, majoring in dairy sciences.

2 groups request use of town hall

Two requests for permission to use the addition to the Van Buren Township Hall have been placed on file by the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees.

The township trustees deferred action on the two requests until the new addition construction is completed. The requests were filed by the John M. Wahl Women's Relief Corp. No. 87 of Belleville and the Belleville Area Senior Citizens Club.

Van Buren Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer said the addition, which will be the senior citizens' and other administration's new meeting room, will be available to by the township.

Cavanagh seeks area support

Republicans have been winning the governorship in Michigan for the last 12 years because Democrats have been letting them, former Detroit Mayor Jerry Cavanagh said.

Cavanagh addressed the presidents of Western Wayne County Democratic clubs at a breakfast meeting in Westland as part of a tour through the area in his quest for the party's nomination next year.

"The Democrats have been their own worst enemies," Cavanagh said. "We have emphasized the differences in our party and we have split it apart."

THE ELECTION for state governorships coming up across the nation including Michigan's race will be a key one for the party, he explained.

"If the Democrats can't fashion a winning slate with all the issues we have this year," he added. "We're in for some bad times."

"Because if we can't function on a statewide level, we won't be able to put anything together for 1976."

Cavanagh said in spite of two Republican governors in a row for Michigan, there still are active Democrats in the state that would react to a good candidate. He pointed to the majority in the House of Representatives as proof that Democrats can win.

"WHEN SOME Democratic voters get to the top of the ticket, they'll opt for the Republican incumbent because they like him," he said. "They'll vote straight Democratic down the rest of the ticket."

The state's 750,000 proclaimed "independent" voters traditionally vote Democratic, he added, and the party must look toward capturing those votes as well as trying to keep Democrats in the fold.

"We've been fighting with ourselves," he said. "We've had Wallace Democrats and Humphrey Democrats and McGovern Democrats, but now we've got to be Democrat Democrats."

Cavanagh said he's a serious candidate for the nomination.

Christmas pet--a fuzzy delight if handled right

By KAY DeBORD
Of The Enterprise
Roman Staff

Thinking of giving someone a pet for Christmas? Or buying one for the family? Humane and Anti-Cruelty Associations, as well as reputable pet stores remind that that adorable puppy or kitten can be a nuisance if care problems are not anticipated and planned for, especially with all the confusion of the holiday at hand.

Not that one is to be discouraged from giving a home to a cuddly pet that will become an important member of the family if given half a chance.

REMEMBER, bringing a new baby home from the hospital and the first few nights and days can be a traumatic experience too!

For example housebreaking a puppy takes time and patience, and on the first day in a new house, it should be taken outside every hour, before play, after eating and when awakening from a nap.

A lot of trouble? Well, isn't anything that's worthwhile?

A kitten has generally been trained by its mother not to soil its own bed, and a quiet corner with a litter or shredded paper-filled box will do nicely.

It's advised, by experts, not to make the kitten hunt the house for its litter box. Accidents could occur. Instead, limit the area from a room, and then allow the kitten to get further away from its litter box over a several-days period.

PUPPIES AND kittens shouldn't be mauled and handled like other Christmas toys. They tire easily and need a place where they can get away and rest up without being disturbed by small tots, no matter how loving the intent.

If it is a puppy's first night away from its mother and other members of the litter, it will probably cry itself to sleep. Nobody will sleep until the pup does!

If the owner is determined that the pup is going to get off to a "right" start, a loud-ticking alarm clock, some worn clothes bearing the scent of the new owner or a familiar toy in its box will help comfort the pup.

Kittens need a sheltered spot, away from drafts, and something soft to cuddle in or with, such as an old sweater or fuzzy rug.

THE JOY of being the owner of a tail-wagging, purring welcoming committee also brings the responsibility of seeing that the pet pays a visit to the veterinarian for shots and vaccination, proper food, not just table scraps, and most important, neutering the pet should be seriously considered.

Every day, unwanted puppies and kittens are put to death. Females that are too prolific are abandoned to their fate, which is generally cruel, and male dogs are left to roam and become nuisances to the neighborhood.

The cost of neutering is comparative. The price is similar to a month's supply of beer or cigarettes.

Don't be frightened off! The joys that come with ownership of a pet far outweigh the problems. Visit your local animal shelter, Humane or Anti-Cruelty Society and choose, if you can, one of the pets waiting for a home.

WANT ME? — Kittens can be soft and cuddly playmates, but when mauled by young, inexperienced hands they use their only defense, their claws. A fuzzy kitten can be a Christmas delight if its new owner learns how to show respect for the animal's rights.

Merry Christmas

May the happy spirit of Christmas continue through our year-round relationship. Thanks!

Court finds Edison at fault in drowning

A Wayne County Circuit Court jury has awarded a $210,000 judgement to a Taylor woman in a suit which charged the Detroit Edison Co. with negligence in the accidental drowning of her husband.

The jury awarded the damages to Mrs. Edna Badger, 49, whose husband, Laverne, drowned nine years ago at a dam at French Landing at the east end of Belleville Lake in Van Buren Township.

According to Mrs. Badger's suit, her husband was fishing at the dam with his son and a friend when three trespassers opened a valve, releasing the water into the Huron River. His two companions left the fishing site to investigate the increased water flow, and upon returning to the landing, they found that Badger, caught up in the current, had been swept into the lake.

The suit charged that the valve had not been properly locked by Edison.

Funeral rites conducted for Van Buren educator

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Wagner-Stark-Moore Memorial Chapel in Ypsilanti for Helen Nass, assistant principal of Belleville's South Junior High School, who died the victim of an apparent heart attack.

Interment was at Alban Cemetery in Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Nass collapsed Thursday morning at the school and was pronounced dead on arrival at Belleville Community Hospital.

Mrs. Nass had been a member of the teaching staff for the Van Buren Public School District since 1944. She was assigned to the South faculty in 1961 and was made assistant principal there during the 1968-69 school year.

She taught English and geography and served as a student counselor at Belleville High School before joining the South staff.

Mrs. Nass is survived by a son, Hugh, of Hart; a daughter, Mrs. Sharon Kaarsburg, of Livonia; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Kerrigan, of Belleville; and three grandchildren.

Students plan party for hospital's young

The Christmas season will be a bit merrier this year for patients at Mott Children's Hospital, a unit of the University of Michigan Hospital at Ann Arbor, thanks to students at Edgemont Elementary School in Belleville.

Sixth grade students of Jon Hale's class as well as other sixth graders at the school continued a three-year tradition of making pinatas for the children's Christmas party at the hospital.

Hale's students collected candy and toys to fill this year's party pinatas, while students of Mrs. Mona Salisbury's class added sugar-free diabetic candy.

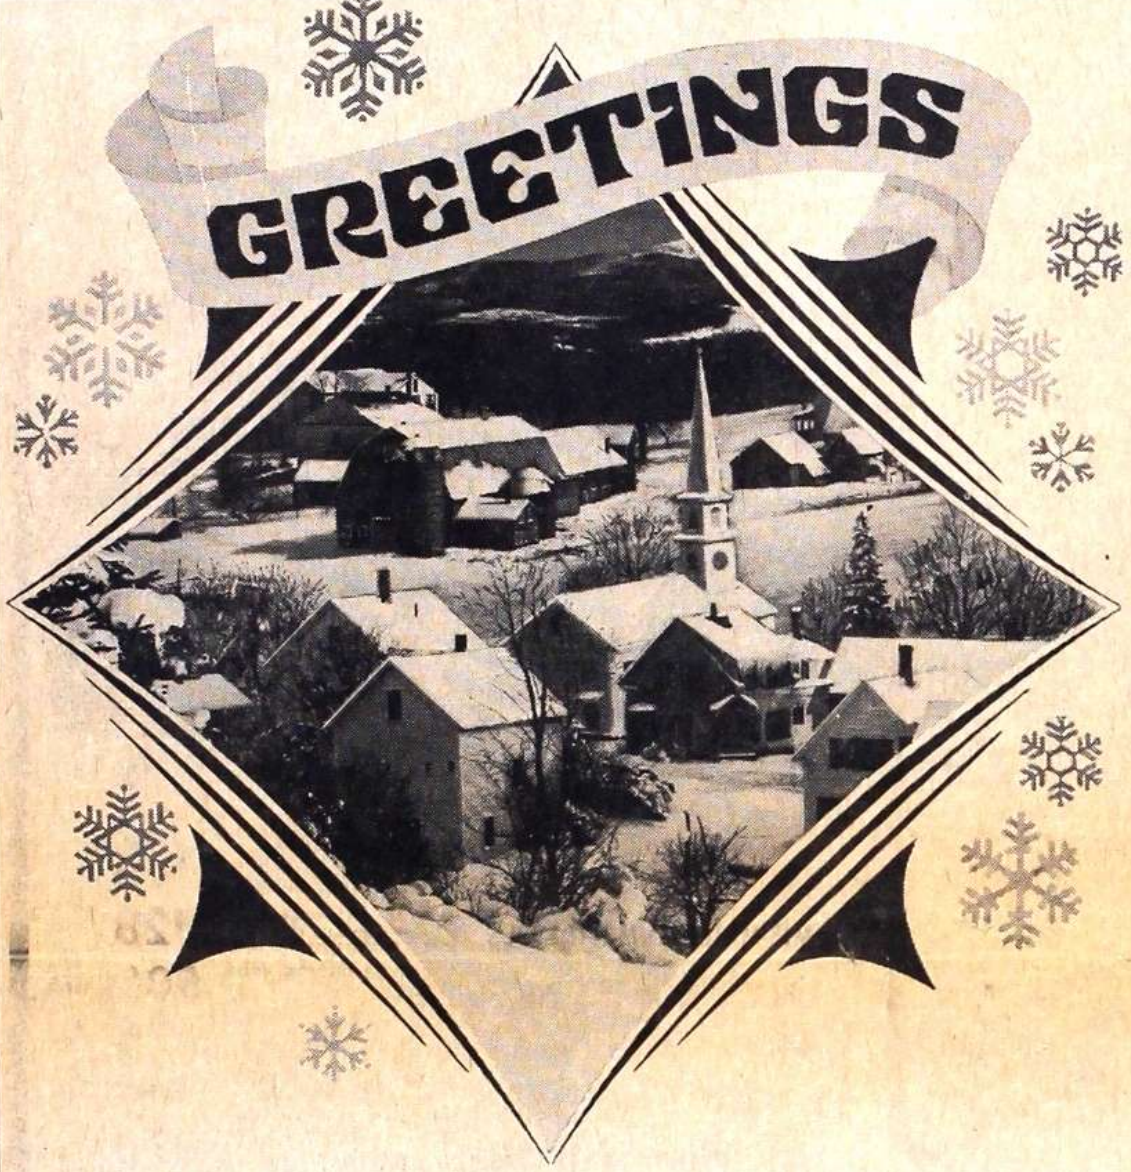

Other donations came from Mrs. Stella Bialas' class and included children-made puzzles, stuffed toys, tin can trucks, book markers and posters.

The students began their gift-giving efforts in 1969, when they collected 700 used books, mostly usable paperback volumes, for the hospital's school library.

Since then the project has become an annual event with the students receiving a surprise of their own last year. The young patients at the hospital put their culinary talents to work.

GREETINGS

Do you really need all the electricity you'll use today?

Detroit Edison

You can't take electricity for granted anymore. So use only what you really need. After 9 p.m. and on weekends is the best time. By reducing daytime use you can help save oil and gas which are in critically short supply.

Wait until after 9 p.m. to start your dishwasher or clothes dryer. Turn out lights when you leave a room. You can think of many more yourself.

If you have questions, call our Energy Conservation Advisor at 237-9161 or your local Edison office.

'You're never alone'

Car pools 'join' Weight Watchers

'You're Never Alone' is one theme most Weight Watchers are familiar with as they try to help one another in their battle with overweight. Today with the current fuel shortage, Weight Watchers of Eastern Michigan, Inc. has adopted another theme in their efforts to organize car pools for their members.

Throughout the metropolitan Detroit area, as well as Ann Arbor, Flint, Toledo, Ypsilanti and Windsor, lecturers at weekly meetings are currently urging all members to form car pools in local areas.

'With nearly 25,000 members attending 400 classes each week, car pools formed by our members attending the same class each week could save a considerable amount of gasoline during this present fuel crisis said Florine Mark, group president.

'Although we have always tried to keep our classes as close and as convenient to work or home as possible for our members, we feel that members who attend the same class week after week and travel the same way can easily extend our 'you're never alone' theme to their cars as well, and personally help save fuel."

For further information contact the Weight Watchers office at 557-6100.

May the peaceful tranquility of this Holy season enter heart and home.
Our pleasure is serving you.

Belleville student dramatizes crisis

Even children are worried about the energy crisis. Chris Lockwood, 10, fifth grader at the Elwell Elementary School in Belleville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lockwood, 17546 Sumpter Rd., Belleville, recently wrote a poem expressing his concern of the crisis.

(Sung to the tune of "What The World Needs Now Is Love")

'What the world needs now is fuel'

What the world needs now is fuel and oil. It's the only thing that there's much too little of.
What the world needs now is fuel and oil. No, not just for some but for everyone.
Lord, we don't need another shortage. There's not enough fuel oil left.
Next year we might have to ration gas. There isn't enough to last (till the end of '75').
Lord I hope we don't have to ration oil. We're running out of it too fast.
Tanks are draining and draining and emptying. We just don't have enough to last.
What the U.S. needs now is fuel, fuel, fuel. It's one of the things there's much too little of.
What the world needs now is fuel, sweet fuel, it's one of the things that there's much too little of.

At Greenfield Village

Christmas exhibit interprets season as it was observed

The special Christmas exhibition at the Henry Ford Museum interprets the season as it was observed by Americans in years past. "The Crafts at Christmas" features handicrafts, music and decorations from the days when most gifts were fashioned by hand, and holiday activities were simple family affairs. The exhibit continues through Dec. 31.

Museum craftsmen are assembled outside their workshops along the "Street of Early American Shops," demonstrating traditional skills that provided earlier generations with holiday luxuries as well as the necessities of life.

COSTUMED ARTISANS cut and shape tin candle sconces and cookie cutters, from bowls and covered jars on a potter's wheel, cast pewter bells and buttons, and fashion delicate Christmas tree ornaments of glass and a leatherworker cuts and sews 19th century-style valises and leather bags outside the "Saddle and Harness Shop."

Woodcuts with typical 19th century designs are created by museum craftsmen, while a printer turns out copies of the design on an antique hand press nearby.

Domestic skills once learned by all young women are re-created for holiday visitors, too. Craftsmen hook rugs, mold candles, sew patchwork quilts and bake old-fashioned Christmas cookies for children and their parents.

From time to time visitors may watch demonstrations of other skills, such as the making of herb sachets, dolls and bobbin lace.

NEAR THE "STREET OF Shops" a special display of old-time musical instruments offers a setting for occasional live concerts of traditional Yuletide music. Players perform on these antique instruments from the museum collection, which include a melodian, a square piano and a harpsichord as well as several music boxes.

The special exhibit area boasts a display of 19th century toys which created fantasy worlds for our great-grandparents when they were young.

A circus full of gaily painted wooden animals and acrobats stands frozen in performance, firing the imagination of young and old alike. Dating from 1900 to 1925, many of the toy circus performers are creations of the famous woodcarvers of A. Schoenhut & Co.

Nearby, several dollhouses display miniature period furnishings ranging from the 1870s to the 1920s. Three of the dollhouses and many of the toys on display are part of a recent gift to the museum from Mrs. Almira Gray Wilde. They have never been exhibited publicly before.

APPROPRIATE Yuletide music and holiday decorations add a festive air to the entire museum. Christmas wreaths, ribbons and cedar roping spruce up lampposts and doorways, while old-fashioned Christmas trees dot the museum aisles and hallways.

In the "Decorative Arts Galleries" the period rooms and alcoves are graced with appropriate garlands of greens, centerpieces of fruit and fanciful decorations of the past.

Continuing the ancient tradition of welcoming holiday guests with an offering of food and drink, Greenfield Village greets its visitors in the Town Hall with complimentary hot spiced cider and Christmas cookies.

For museum admission information, call 271-1620.

GENERAL STORE DECORATION — This gaily decorated general store holds a wealth of goods which tempted Christmas shoppers years ago—bright colored ribbons and cloth, striped bags of candy and tobacco. A visit to the 19th century shop is part of Christmas in Greenfield Village, where festive homes and shops, carolers, sleigh rides and craft demonstrations recreate the atmosphere of an old-fashioned Yuletide.

Carnival offers free features

"Christmas Carnival," Detroit's holiday gift to visitors of all ages, will be presented through Dec. 24 at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

This free festive show is spread over a four-acre area in Halls A and B and allows ample room and comfort for everyone. Each youngster will have an opportunity to see Santa and receive free candy.

Visitors will be greeted by a 25-foot-tall Santa Claus surrounded by animated figures. The Glorious Nativity display (with commentary) will be featured.

DETROIT MAYOR Roman S. Gribbs said that the "Christmas Carnival" has become a tradition for many families.

"There will be many beautiful displays and exciting new activities which we are sure everyone will enjoy," the mayor said.

New displays for 1973 include a barrel-of-fun house, a special spaceship complete with Martian men, an expanded Santa's animal land with live exhibits and nature trails, Santa's viking ship and the enlarged Gene LeRoy animated miniature circus. "The Three Wishes" will be

'There will be many beautiful displays.'

Sly fox

Robin Hood, a sly fox, enjoys the challenge and excitement of frustrating Prince John by intercepting tax collections headed for the royal treasury in this scene from Walt Disney Productions' animated cartoon feature, "Robin Hood," in which all the characters are animals. The film is being shown at local theaters the holiday season.

Another feature in the Christmas show is the "Telephone to Santa's Workshop" display with child-size telephone booths.

"Christmas Carnival" will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. through Sunday and on Christmas Eve from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Tom Niemi called it "his biggest victory" as a coach. Understandably. The Tigers knocked off a highly-touted Plymouth Salem quintet 63-56 for their first Suburban 8 Conference victory in two starts. Salem was tagged as the pre-season title favorite and sports a front line which any college coach would envy: 6-10, 6-8, and 6-5.

"What can I say?" asked Niemi, searching for the right words. "It was just an unbelievable performance by all of our boys. A tremendous all-around job."

But if special accolades were to be handed out they surely would go to Charlie Brown and Dennis Easley. Brown came off the bench and EASLEY, a 5-11 guard hauled down 17 rebounds and scored 13 points to keep the Belleville cage machine rolling.

Belleville was faced with the prospects of stopping the likes of 6-10 Salem center Eric Agardy, sophomore Jim Ellinghausen, who stands 6-8 and 6-5 Bruce Johnson.

"What impressed me the most," said Niemi, "is that we got 19 offensive and 25 defensive rebounds for a total of 44 while Salem has 44. That shows the boys can do the job on taller teams if they want to." Belleville managed to increase its 34-31 halftime advantage to 52-42 for three periods, then hung on as Plymouth came back to outscore their hosts 14-11 in the final stanza.

There was one statistic that the Belleville coach would like to see improved: free throws. The Tigers canned only three of 14 as compared to eight of 18 by Plymouth.

"Those free throws are important," stressed Niemi. "Championships have been won and lost at the free throw line. We need to improve or else suffer the consequences."

BELLEVILLE had four of its players in double figures with Brown and Walter Easley sharing individual scoring honors for the team. They had 16 apiece. Dennis Easley contributed 13 while Melvin Abraham counted 12.

Agardy wound up with 20 points, the game's high. But none of his teammates broke into double figures.

Belleville isn't due to see action until next week when the Tigers will travel to Cherry Hill to compete in the holiday tournament. Also featured will be Wayne Memorial, the defending champ, and Westland John Glenn.

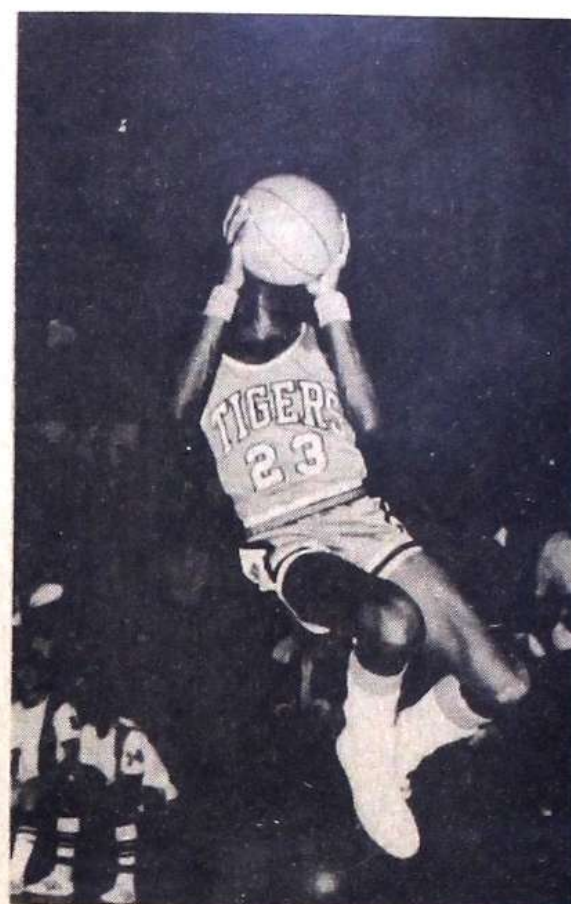

The first round pairings pit Belleville against Wayne at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 27 and Glenn against Cherry Hill at 8:30 p.m.

The championship and the consolation game will be played on Saturday, Dec. 29 beginning at 7 p.m.

Christmas ...'humbug' tourneys

By TOM MOORADIAN

When talk turns to Christmas basketball tournaments, Bob Visser is quick to say, "humbug."

And the 41-year-old Livonia Franklin High School cage coach can offer several good reasons why he is anti-Christmas tournaments. Undaunted by any ghosts of the past, present or future, Visser feels that Christmas basketball tournaments can only handicap a team, not help it.

"When you enter a Christmas tournament you want to win it," Visser obviously won't get any argument with that statement. He adds: "And if you should go ahead and win it, there is always a chance of a letdown afterwards which means that you're going to work overtime to keep your players up for the league."

"I feel our first and main goal is to win the league championship," continued the former Grand Rapids Central High cage star. "I don't want our league championship to become secondary to any Christmas tournament."

VISSER WOULD have a tough time convincing many of the area basketball coaches. Not less than eight of the 13: Belleville, New Boston Huron, Wayne Memorial, Westland John Glenn, Cherry Hill, Dearborn Heights Robichaud, Livonia Churchill and Plymouth Canton are committed in playing in an holiday tournament this year.

But, that's interrupting Visser's thoughts. He said after winning such a tournament may lead to a letdown, but all the teams, as we all know, don't win.

What happens to the losers?

"It's even worse when you lose," said Visser, "then you have additional problems on your hand. When a team loses the first round, it goes into a consolation bracket, and some of those games really look as if the kids would have been better if they just stayed home. Then the coach has the job of putting pieces together."

VISSER STRESSED that he uses the holiday layoff period to brush up on some of the things they didn't have time for in the early part of the season.

"We like to come back to scrimmages where we can try things or work out things we didn't have time for before," the Patriot coach said. "There is too much pressure during the holiday tournaments to do what you want and, at practice, you can go over the things you feel you have to work on or work out."

Franklin, though it lost the first two games of the season, has come back to win three straight, including a key decision over Westland John Glenn, the defending Northwest Suburban Conference champ.

But, if the Patriot coach is against his team participating in Christmas tournaments, he is probably one of the first to attend such tourneys.

The reasons are obvious: scouting the opposition, getting first hand information on his rivals.

"I try to get to see as many games (holiday tournament games) as possible," said Visser. "It gives me an opportunity to see rivals first hand instead of by evaluating someone else's scouting reports."

So, don't count on seeing any Visser's team at a Christmas tournament, unless of course, Phillip Morely's ghost can convince him he should change his ways.

DUEL FOR THE GOLD—Romulus' Rudy Williams works John Glenn's Chuck Balzarini (dark jersey) for a decision to win the gold medal in the 155-pound class at the 16th Annual Garden City East Invitation. Rudy

Romulus is runnerup Wayne retains East invitational mat title

It's getting to be a habit that Wayne Memorial wrestling Coach Don Haney is enjoying. His Zebras dominated the 16th annual Garden City East Invitational for the second consecutive year.

"I'm proud of this group," said Haney whose contingent polled 101 1/2 points to runaway from its closest rival, Romulus (62) and a field of 14 other area teams. "There were some very good wrestlers out there and our boys managed to take three gold medals, two silvers and three third places."

"And when you win an invitational like this, you have to be elated," the veteran Wayne Memorial coach said.

ROMULUS, which wound up in the second place slot for the second year, had four champs.

"The kids did a real fine job," said Romulus Coach Jim Stallings. "We won every match that we were in in the finals. As I have previously said, the tougher the tournament the tougher we will be."

Wayne Memorial's John Bullard, who placed second in the state last year in the 138-pound class, was named the invitational's outstanding wrestler.

Competing in the 145-pound class, Bullard decided Garden City West's Dave Rochon, 4-0, to win the title. He previously stopped his three previous rivals on pins: 1-51, 1-53 and 50 seconds, all in the first period.

ROMULUS' Brad Smith avenged his lone loss of the season by beating the man who defeated him, Wayne's Larry Silvestri. The Romulus grappler came off the East mats with a 4-0 decision and the gold medal in the 138-pound class.

Meanwhile, Romulus' Phil Ford also got his margin of revenge when he turned back Churchill's Pat Mullin, 6-0, to win the title in the 119-pound

Fordson wins Belleville Relays

Dearbornites edge Tigers for title

By DALE GOWING
Enterprise-Roman
Sports Writer

There was a little of the expected and a bit of the unexpected at last Saturday's Belleville Swim Relays, and for the host Tigers, the latter was the most pleasing.

As generally anticipated by the five schools participating in the second annual meet, Dearborn Fordson stroked to victory and dethroned defending champion Belleville.

As for the unexpected, Belleville Coach Sam Vicchy was rather pleased that Wyandotte made such a strong showing — since having top teams in a relay meet can only enhance the meet's reputation.

Fordson captured the title with 36 points, edging out Belleville with 29. Warren Woods was third with 27 points while fourth-place Wyandotte trailed closely at 25, and Dearborn Heights Annapolis lagged far behind with just nine points.

BELLEVILLE AND Fordson swam almost even for six of the eight events, pitting the two in a showdown in the 200-yard breaststroke relay as the meet neared an end. Fordson, however, eased to victory in 2:08.9, while Belleville had to settle for fourth. In the final event, the 400-yard freestyle relay, Woods swam to victory with Fordson finishing second and Belleville third.

"It was a very competitive meet as the scores indicated," said an enthused Vicchy, excited at the prospects of the meet becoming one of the top relay competitions in the area. "We want to get five strong teams in this meet each year but I didn't know Wyandotte was that strong."

"Look at the points: The second, third and fourth finishers all were within four points of each other.

"I was disappointed with Annapolis though," Vicchy added. "They didn't make a very good showing and we might have to invite a different school next year to keep the meet close."

VICCHY SAID he "hadn't expected" to beat Fordson anyway, since the Tractors are a pool powerhouse. "I thought before the meet we had a chance for second or third, so I was pleased with our finish," he said.

"It went right down to the breaststroke relay, though, and if we could have done better in that we could have won the meet. That was definitely the turning point."

The Tiger coach was particularly happy with the efforts of his 400-yard individual medley relay team, consisting of Pike Walker, Dave Barber, Dwight Bell and Dennis Harkness. The foursome captured the Tigers' first victory in 4:16.8 after Fordson had triumphantly swept the first two events.

Belleville's diving relay duo of Ray Liebler and Aleta Rice followed up the medley relay team's act, winning the diving competition with a total of 210.0 points. The two events were Belleville's only firsts.

FORDSON captured two more events. Other firsts were taken by Warren Woods in the 200-yard butterfly relay and the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Belleville resumes dual meet action Friday by hosting Akron Copley (Ohio) High at 7 p.m. while seeking to lengthen its 3-0 record.

Huron falls in overtime

High School basketball games have four quarters, of course, but some teams play as if only the last two count.

Ask New Boston Huron's Andy Herman. He can talk from first-hand experience.

Herman's Chiefs suffered through a dreadful first half against Huron League foe Monroe Jefferson last Friday, surged back to tie their hosts in the second half and, force an overtime period — then fell, 69-66.

"WE WERE just terrible in the first two quarters," bemoaned Herman. "We played lousy ball and that killed us, despite coming back in the second half."

Huron threw on an impressively successful press the second half, forcing numerous Jefferson turnovers. "But we couldn't capitalize on them and score," Herman said.

"We just played very poorly on defense and in rebounding."

Trailing 14-12 after one quarter, Huron stumbled even more in the second as Jefferson grabbed a 36-25 halftime lead. The Chiefs switched on their press in the third quarter and outscored Monroe, 15-10, to cut the gap to 46-40.

WITH 2:30 left in the final period, Huron finally caught up at 56-56, and even grabbed a 59-56 lead with the clock reading 42 seconds. But as Herman says, "those last 42 seconds were a barnburner."

Jefferson sank a bucket to close within one, 59-58, then with 18 seconds to go and Huron stalling, Jefferson drew a foul. Huron's Howard LeBlanc missed the shot on a one-and-one, however, and the rebound went to Monroe.

The hosts' John Haener raced downcourt and scored, but was fouled also. He made the free throw to put Jefferson on top, 61-59, with six seconds left. But LeBlanc made up for missing his earlier one-and-one situation by pumping in a 25-footer at the buzzer to hurl the contest into overtime.

Three of Huron's starters fouled out in the three-minute overtime period, however, as the Monroe club grabbed a three-point lead and held on for the victory.

Caldwell finished with 13 points.

Joe Richert was high for Huron with 27, while Tim Hinojosa added 12 and LeBlanc 10.

The loss dropped Huron into a five-way scramble in fourth place in the league with a 1-2 record. Other single-victory clubs are Jefferson, Gibraltar Carlson, Flat Rock and Grosse Ile, with the latter invading Huron Friday night. Carlton Airport is in first place with an unblemished 3-0 record while Monroe Catholic Central and Tecumseh have one loss each to accompany 2-1 marks.

Wayne retains East mat title

The top two teams were recipients of trophies while the top four place finishers in each of the four classes were awarded medals.

"The tournament was a great one," said Len Bartlo, East athletic director. "I feel that because there were three or four teams competing for the runnerup spot made it very exciting. We saw some great young wrestlers compete during the two-days of competition, and some excellent sportsmanship between the athletes and the coaches."

Earlier in the week, Romulus grapplers, crippled by the flu, succumbed to Adrian, the defending Class A state champ, 46-12.

"We had at least four of our regulars out of the lineup because of flu," said Stallings, "and, of course, that handicapped us."

SMITH and Lemar Sandusky, who won in the 145 and 105 pound classes, respectively, and Reid, who was awarded a six-point victory when Adrian decided to forfeit to him, were the Eagles' point-winners.

Romulus returned to Wayne Memorial last night to compete in a triple dual involving John Glenn, Temperance Bedford and Wayne. It was the Eagles' final match this year. They'll return to the mats on Jan. 3 when they will travel to Garden City East.

WHAT A CATCH — Romulus' Herb Collins of 9716 Shook Rd., is shown holding a 10-pound Coho salmon and a four pound trout that he nabbed while fishing in Huron River at Flat Rock Sunday morning.

Tiger grapplers pin Dearborn

Belleville High's young wrestlers took a big first step last Wednesday in proving they can hold their own with more experienced teams in dual meet competition.

Dearborn invaded Tiger territory in the season's initial Suburban '8' dual meet, and when it was over it certainly wasn't the Tigers licking any wounds. Instead, the Pioneers went home believers, stunned by Belleville's sophomore-laden squad, 36-15.

"I even think we could have done a little better," offered Tiger Coach Gerald Malencek. "One of our top boys didn't wrestle because he didn't make the weight, which

House passes veteran bonus bill

By EDUARDE MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

The House has agreed to ask voters approval of the sale of $180 million in general obligation bonds to provide a bonus for Michigan men and women who served armed in the forced during the Vietnam conflict.

It would provide a $600 bonus for "combat" veterans, those who served in the war area, and a maximum of $480 to others.

This is a bill that I inroduced to provide benefits similar to those granted in other wars to those who served during the Vietnam War.

THE BILL had wide support and passed the House by a near unanimous of 94-1 vote. The measure has been sent to the Senate which already had expressed its intent to seek a Vietnam bonus for Michigan veterans.

There are approximately 423,000 veterans who would be eligible for this bonus. Once final approval is received in the Legislature, the bond issue proposal will be placed before voters in the November election 1974.

Michigan voters rejected a bond issue for Vietnam veteran benefits in the 1972 election, but that proposal also included educational benefits, which the present one does not. It will, therefore, mean a considerably smaller bond issue outlay.

In presenting this latest proposal to the legislature, I feel that the citizens will recognize the justice of providing a bonus for Vietnam era veterans from Michigan and readily will approve the bond issue.

THE 1972 vote came at a time when there were a number of other, more controversial items on the ballot, which I feel contributed to the defeat of the veterans' bonus proposal.

The bill would provide bonuses for Vietnam veterans who completed at least 190 days of honorable duty or died from war wounds during the 1961-1974 period.

The "combat" veterans would receive a flat bonus of $600, while others who served during the period would get $20 per month of service up to $480. Benefits of a deceased veteran would go to his beneficiary.

If the bonds are authorized, money to meet principal and interest payments would be appropriated from the state's general fund.

ONE OTHER major issue recently before the House was the creation of the State Department of Human Services, a consolidation of the present departments of Social Services, Mental Health and Public Health.

The purpose is to increase efficiency, eliminate duplication and overlapping services, and to attempt to economize in government costs.

The new department was established by an executive order, which becomes effective automatically unless rejected by the Legislature. There was, in fact, an attempt to reject it in the house, but it was defeated.

Hopefully, the new department will provide "one-stop" service for such basic needs as clothing, health, food and shelter on a coordinated basis.

The governor will appoint a director to the new agency early next year, and the department is slated to spend its first six months arranging its procedures and programs for the next fiscal year, with full operation planned for July 1, 1974.

Romulus approves rezoning

The way is being paved for a new single family housing development on the west side of Wayne Road south of Wick Road.

The Romulus City Council recently rezoned about one acre of land from a general business designation to single family home zoning near the intersection of the two roads.

The rezoning allows the construction of homes on 60-foot lots in the city's central section.

Belleville firm wins contracts

The Michigan Highway Department has awarded contracts for two road projects in Dearborn, Dearborn Heights and Taylor to the Thomas-McCully Co. of Belleville.

The Belleville firm's bid of $1,049,263 for widening Van Born Road east of Inkster Road to Beech-Daly Road in Dearborn, and a bid of $989,652 for widening Van Born Road east of Beech-Daly in Dearborn Heights and Taylor to a point east of Telegraph Road, were the lowest bids received by the state highway department.

Romulus Jaycees seek 5 best men

The search is on for Romulus' five outstanding young men for 1973.

The Romulus Jaycees are starting the annual search, which will culminate with the naming of those men between the ages of 18 and 35 who most benefitted the community during the past year.

All area residents are included to nominate candidates for the honor.

Nominating applications can be obtained by contacting Tom Von Glahn, 9455 Terry, Romulus 48174.

To be eligible, the nominee must be a citizen of the United States.

All applications must also be signed by the nominee.

Stores have spirit in students' art

Businesses throughout Romulus are sporting a "Christmas look", this year, through the efforts of the Romulus Jaycee Auxiliary.

The Jaycee Auxiliary project chairman, Marlene Pawelak, has organized a "window decorations brigade" of students from the Romulus High School, who have been going from business to business, offering to spruce them up in the season's spirit.

The auxiliary says it is proud of the project, since it makes the city look a little better, and shows the work of some good teen-agers in the city.

Romulus Dems eye President impeachment

The Romulus Democratic Club has joined with the 15th District Congressional organization to work for the impeachment of President Nixon.

The club has urged members who are interested in working on the 15th District committee to contact Henry Johnson at 728-1033 to promote the impeachment.

Johnson has information on how to obtain bumper stickers, or on where to send contributions for the organization's project.

Canvasser applications available

Romulus residents interested in serving on the city's board of canvassers have until today to submit applications for the job.

The board serves in time of elections, certifying the results of all city elections.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR
Santa Claus or one of his assistants MAY answer this letter. If this happens, a reply will appear here next week. Watch for it. It may be interesting!

Dear Santa Claus:

Everyone knows you get around more these days than you did in the past. We're always amazed how your time and schedule works out. But, somehow it does... It has been a long time, Santa, since we wrote you a letter. Years ago, when we wrote, we asked you to pack this or that in your sack and to be sure you brought it to the right house. We've grown up since then. Now, after all these years, and with nostalgic recollections, here is a "different" kind of letter. This is a "Thank You" letter, much too delayed, to say thanks for your past presents and presence at so many merry Christmases. Incidentally, Santa, we wonder how many "thank you" letters you receive AFTER Christmas compared with your stupendous sacks of mail before Christmas?

Because you meet so many people in so many places, we wonder if you or any of your assistants would care to write us a letter and relate some of your observations? We would especially like to have your impressions of differences between past and present customs. We would appreciate it immensely... Thank you, and here's hoping you have the most meaningful, memorable and merry Christmas ever...

To Guatemala Family from area plans a mission

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

An area family who wished to "do as the Apostles did" will journey to Guatemala early next year to teach the citizens of that country to "speak where the Bible speaks and remain silent where it is silent."

Thomas Martin, 31, his wife, Dianne, 31, with their son, Paul, 4, will be leaving their Westland home Jan. 26 as a mission family from the Wayne Church of Christ, 3789 Venoy Rd., Westland.

The family, which lives at 31550 Alpena Ct., Westland, intends to make the 4,000 mile trek to Guatemala City, Guatemala, where they will work with the citizens of the country, in a 1967 enclosed pick-up truck carrying all their worldly possessions.

"I've ALWAYS wanted to go to Latin America to do mission work, because I studied the Book of Acts and the life of Paul, both of which covered missionary work, and wanted to do as the original Christians did," explained Martin.

He has been preparing for his mission in life since 1955, when he first got the missionary zeal as a student in the Wayne-Westland School system. Since that time, he has studied Spanish and earned his Master's of Arts Degree in Missions from Harding College in Arkansas.

He had earned his bachelor of arts degree from Michigan Christian College in Rochester.

Since the time he earned his college credits, Martin has been supporting himself with his preaching, working in Mississippi, Michigan and Arkansas.

IN 1967, he got his first taste of missionary work when he helped establish a Church of Christ congregation in Alpena.

"I would expect my work in Guatemala to be a bit easier than it was in Alpena," Martin explained. "Indeed, I will have to suffer through the 'culture shock' when I realize how much I will be missing of American life in Guatemala, but I believe the citizens of Latin America will be more receptive to the teachings of Christ than were the well-established citizens of northern Michigan."

County commissioners okay major changes at hospital

Major expansion of the inhalation therapy department and a new 40-bed adolescent psychiatric unit at Wayne County General Hospital have been approved by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The county commissioners approved a request that 18 positions be added in the hospital's inhalation therapy operation "to meet patient needs and standards of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals."

The $212,480 cost of the additional staff will be equalled or exceeded by the additional revenues from services available to patients, according to the commissioners' human resources committee.

DR. RAMON R. Joseph, acting president of the hospital medical staff, requested the additional staff.

He told the human resources committee that only one of every five inhalation therapy treatments ordered by patients' physicians was being performed due to the lack of staff. He said patients requiring such treatments were being transferred to other hospitals.

Dr. Joseph said the hospital was losing in excess of $400,000 a year in revenues that could be collected from health insurance companies for inhalation therapy treatments.

The department's staff had dwindled during the last few years when all county hiring was frozen due to a critical budget situation. The budget crisis has eased since the advent of federal revenue sharing and economy measures instituted by the Board of Commissioners.

THE BOARD also approved the outlay of up to $12,000 to establish a 40-bed ward for adolescent psychiatric cases. The ward will be located in "L building," recently vacated by the transfer of state mental patients to state facilities.

First use of the new ward will be for the temporary care of 19 adolescents being transferred from the Island View Adolescent Center, a facility which has been criticized by several commissioners for inadequate programming.

The Island View children eventually will be moved from the ward to a new facility being built at Booth Hospital.

The county will be reimbursed by the State of Michigan $60 of the $80 per day care costs for each child.

Western Wayne County residents given tips to bypass road hazards

A little foresight and preventive maintenance will enable the careful Western Wayne County motorist to weather the hazards and problems of winter driving with a minimum of difficulty.

According to car care experts steps to take in getting a car ready for winter should include:

—Flushing of the cooling system and the addition of permanent-type anti-freeze every other year. It prevents the engine block from freezing and will tolerate much higher engine temperatures than other coolants.

—CHANGING to a high-quality winter grade motor oil for easier cold weather starting. A 5W multi-grade motor oil gives 20 to 50 per cent better starting characteristics, even at 20 below zero.

—Installing snow tires and studs (where state law permits) to provide that extra "bite" needed for safe driving on snow and ice.

—Applying a heavy coat of paste wax to chrome bumpers, headlight rings and other metal trim to provide extra winter protection. A good paste waxing of the entire car also is recommended. Once winter is in full swing, weekly visits to a car wash removes most corrosive elements.

—Changing to stiffer and heavier windshield wiper blades, designed especially for snow and ice conditions, to provide better visibility when needed. When warmer weather sets in, they can be removed, replaced and saved for the next winter.

—BRAKE SYSTEMS should be checked to insure equalization of pressure on all four wheels. Uneven pressure can cause brakes to "grab," jerk the car to one side and prevent a normal stop.

—Have all hoses, clamps and connections; the thermostat, fan belts and radiator cap checked for reliability.

—Test the battery for proper charge and strength, and have the terminals, connections and cables cleaned.

Police seek suspect

Ypsilanti police have extended their search for suspects in a recent rape-kidnapping there to the Western Wayne County area, warning residents that the suspects still are at large.

Two black males both ranging in height from 5'9" to 6'1" and weighing approximately 160 pounds kidnapped a young Ypsilanti couple from the parking lot of Bimbo's bar, 32791 E. Michigan Ave. late on Dec. 1.

Both were taken to a road out of town and the boy was beaten and locked in the trunk of the car, then the girl was raped twice and also put in the trunk of the car, police said. The car was parked on a street, and passing police officers heard the two victims rapping on the trunk and went to investigate.

The assailants might be the same ones that have been involved in other cases in the area, local police say.

Persons with any information are asked to call Det. William Ing at the Ypsilanti City Police Department, 483-2311 or Det. Kenneth Krause at the state police post in Ypsilanti.

He weighs 1,069 lbs.

The heaviest recorded human was Robert Hughes of Illinois, who weighed 1,069 pounds at the age of 32.

WCGH patients form musical group

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Enterprise Staff

The psychiatric care patients at Wayne County General Hospital (WCGH) have their own singing groups. And though their performances aren't of the highest quality they prove to be a helpful tool in returning patients to a normal life.

Known as music therapy, the practice of involving psychiatric patients has been used by psychiatrists since the late 1930s, when the late Dr. Ira M. Alshuler, then a psychiatrist on staff at the hospital, began using music as a means to bridge the span between a patients disordered emotions and a return to normal life.

"Music is one of the few things a patient may encounter in the foreign surroundings of a hospital he can understand," said Jean Simmonds, a registered occupational therapist on the ancillary therapies staff at WCGH.

"WE AREN'T as concerned with the performance as the therapy which is involved," said Shirley Stevens, director of ancillary therapies at the hospital.

"The music therapist makes an effort to acclimate the patient with his surroundings, and to involve them in a social type atmosphere," added Christine Smith, the registered music therapist on the staff.

Patients are referred to the ancillary therapies section of the psychiatric care division by psychiatrists. In the referral, the doctor specifies whether the patient can participate in either music therapy, occupational, therapy or recreational therapy.

Because almost anyone can participate in music, be it by tapping his toe to a tune or playing an instrument, the majority begin their stays at the hospital in the music therapy section.

"THE MUSIC CAN be used in so many ways to help a patient that it would be amazing to someone outside of the staff," Mrs. Smith said. "We can use music to match the patients mood — if he's in an aggressive mood, we play soothing music, if he's in a complacent mood, we play exciting music — until we are able to bring him to a normal level of activity."

"Then, we are able to use our music to help resocialize the patient — make him respond better to his environment."

The tricks of the music therapist are many — whether they are organizing a chorus and bringing too few books to sing with, or whether they are teaching the patient the use of an instrument.

"We are trying to guide a patient into involvement with others," Mrs. Smith said. "Whether he's tapping his toe to music, sharing a book, singing along with a group, or dancing to a tune, a patient does become involved."

AND THROUGH the involvement, he is taught more about himself.

"The therapist always is watching and trying things," Mrs. Smith added. "If you see that one practice brings a man out of a shell, you use it again and again, until he is used to being out of his shell."

"If you see another practice makes a patient happy, when he is sad all the time, you use it again."

"We aren't as busy teaching patients music as we are attempting to guide them to a return to outside life."

THE MUSIC therapist is required to draw up weekly and monthly progress reports for each patient, and through the reports, the psychiatrist is able to gauge his patient's progress toward normalcy.

"The referral sets goals and guidelines for the patient," Miss Stevens said. "The doctor asks us to help the patient cope with certain aspects of his personality through his work with music, and we try to accomplish this."

Music participation allows a patient to become acclimated with his hospital environment, and then, helps him to understand the outside environment, though he may not know what is happening.

"The patient is doing something he likes without a threat from the outside, when he's participating," Mrs. Simmonds said. "He is motivated to do something more than to sit and brood about about being kept in a mental institution."

Supreme Court ruling doesn't change ed aid

By BOB BERG
Lansing Bureau Chief

The high court created a lot issued the last week of 1972. In

Analysis

Supreme Court sources say there has been no change in the status of state aid to public schools as a result of the court's latest action on the school aid question.

of confusion in the Capitol this week when it issued a brief order "vacating" an opinion it judicial language, vacating means "making an order or opinion inoperative."

The 1972 opinion was an advisory one issued by the court at the request of Gov. William G. Milliken and Attorney General Frank J. Kelley.

WHAT IT SAID was that the school aid formula used by the state in the 1970-71 school year was unconstitutional because it relied on local property taxes which were inequitable because they produced different amounts of money in different districts.

The court never ruled the use of property taxes for school financing unconstitutional. It only said the way they were used in 1970-71 was unconstitutional. At the time Chief Justice Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh hinted it was up to the Legislature to change the setup but he issued no order to that effect.

The advisory opinion also was couched by the fact it was issued at the last possible moment. The court was losing two of its members at the end of 1972 and there was a rush to get the opinion out before the membership changed.

Now, after taking a second, longer look at the situation, the court seems to have decided it shouldn't have done anything in the first place.

WHAT THE NEW order says is not that the court was wrong in its ruling, but that the court shouldn't have considered the question in the first place. That is a legal distinction more clear to lawyers than lay people.

The situation was confused by the fact that orders such as the one issued here are not accompanied by any opinions setting out the reasons for the action.

The action means the court is not on record one way or another on the question of the constitutionality of the local property tax for schools or of the 1970-71 school aid setup. If someone wanted to go into court to challenge the current setup, they could do so. There would be no precedent to stop them.

But the school aid bill in effect is much different from the one in effect in 1970-71.

NOW, SCHOOL districts are guaranteed a certain yield per pupil from each millage of tax they levy, regardless of the wealth of the school district. That eliminates the basis for the legal challenge of the property tax, which was based on the unequal yield it had from district to district.

The school aid bill in effect was passed at least partially as a result of the December, 1972, court opinion. There is little chance the Legislature will change it's position and go for more unequal spending.

Thus, the opinion which is inoperative had the effect of producing the changes those who brought the original suit wanted.

Mayor praises patrols

Romulus' branch of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol has received a "vote of confidence" from Mayor Terry L. Troutt.

The recently-elected mayor said the road patrol "provides better efficiency than a small politically-motivated police force," and that he is happy with its service, providing there are a few changes. "I don't criticize the police work," Troutt said. "But I'd sure like to see the officers becoming more involved with city affairs."

"I intend to meet with the directors of the road patrol to see if we can encourage more participation in the community."

In the armed services

Two Romulus residents were among American troops who recently took part in a combined NATO-American forces military exercise in Germany.

Pvt. Kenneth W. E. Campbell, 19, the son of Richard F. Campbell of 37812 Castle Dr., and Spec. 4 Joseph Dittich Jr., 20, whose parents live at 18339 Inkster Rd., served in the Reforger V exercise, which pitted airlifted troops against Europe-Based NATO troops.

The exercise, conducted by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and NATO, focused on the procedures and techniques of receiving, equipping, assembling and employing units after they arrive, rather than on rapid troop deployment.

Spec. Dittich is assigned as a radio teletype operator with headquarters battery, 1st Battalion of the 3rd Infantry Division's 10th field artillery at Schweinfurt, Germany.

Pvt. Campbell is assigned as a switchboard operator in the 34th signal Battalion's Company A.

Army Pvt. Michael A. Kobrzycki, 17, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Kobrzycki, 30525 Van Horn Rd., New Boston, completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, Armor, Ft. Knox, Ky.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesies, military justice, first aid, and army history and traditions.

Army Pvt. Terry L. Mills, 19, the son of Mr. and Mrs. B.A. Mills, 340 Church St., Belleville, completed a seven-week combat engineer course at the U.S. Army Training Center, engineer, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

During his training, he learned to perform engineering tasks in direct support of combat units. The training included instruction in road and airfield construction and maintenance, field fortifications and the erection of fixed and floating bridges.

Treasury boost expected by city

Romulus may realize a treasury boost after a recent inventory of the city's financial assets.

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt has sent a letter to George Lesniewicz of the Wayne County Road Commission asking that the county release $387,000 it has held in escrow since 1958 to insure repayment of bonds for water and sewer construction that year.

"I feel it is no longer necessary to leave money in escrow with the county," Troutt said. "The city has reserved two years of bond payments, giving it a stable financial rating."

"THE SURPLUS funds the county is holding could be used to improve the system (water and sewer), making it more flexible and efficient and more valuable with looped lines."

"The flexibility in providing alternate sources of water in times of emergency is impossible to evaluate."

"The surplus funds the county is holding will assist in financing necessary extensions for new industry expressing a desire to locate in Romulus."

"Looping" of lines in water and sewer construction means the city will connect water and sewer lines in two different places to serve one area of town.

WITH LOOPING one end of the line could be shut down for repairs while the other end is allowed to carry water to homes and businesses.

Troutt informed the county it is holding $174,253.65 in escrow for water line construction and $212,619.01 for sewer line construction from the 1958 bond issue.

Resident from area is dead

A 19-year-old Romulus man was one of two Michigan residents who died during a fire aboard the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk last week.

The man, identified as Fireman Appren. Michael Deverich, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Deverich of Romulus, was one of six seamen killed in the hour-long blaze.

A Navy spokesman said that the fire broke out in the carrier's engine room about 700 miles from its destination, the Subic Bay Naval Station in the Philippines.

Thirty-eight seamen were injured in the fire, and naval officials have not determined its cause.

The second Michigan man was a resident of Mt. Clemens.
